

Red & White Services Fleet List 1930-1975

1. Single Deck Buses

1.36 1974-75 Leyland National

The rear-engined Leyland National was developed for NBC by the nationalised British Leyland and first entered service in 1972. The first Red & White Nationals appeared towards the end of 1974 and 14 had been delivered before the entire fleet was merged with the Western Welsh fleet in October 1975. Between October 1975 and the formation of National Welsh in April 1978 new deliveries consisted almost entirely of Leyland Nationals in both bus and dual purpose layout. The vehicles carried Red & White, Western Welsh or Jones fleet names (together with a few branded Rhondda which company had previously been absorbed by Western Welsh). Many of the vehicles went on loan or hire between the companies and some even changed fleet names during the hire period. For details of the Leyland Nationals acquired after October 1975 see <http://www.nwestins.co.uk/>
